

¡Hola! ¡Bienvenidos!

Most of the kids know me as Ms. Acevedo from last year. I recently got married to my high school sweetheart on July 31st, so my new name is Astrid Gambino! I was so blessed, excited, and honored to be the Spanish teacher at First Baptist Christian School last year. This year I am really looking forward to also be teaching 6th grade Social Studies and 8th grade Bible.

About Me:

I was born in Honduras, but grew up in Louisiana since I was a month old! I graduated from Salmen High School in 2013. I graduated from LSU in 2017 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology. After graduating, I taught English as a second language online for 2 years. God has always led me to ministry with children and I have a genuine gift and heart for them. I have done everything from babysitting, nannying, teaching Sunday school, volunteering at local public schools, and more. As I stated in my intro, I am so blessed to have finally gotten married this summer, after a COVID related postponement. My husband and I have 2 cats and a husky that we spoil and love so much.

My favorite things:

- Jesus
- Candy
- Coffee
- Traveling
- Saints Football
- LSU Football
- My husky
- My cats
- Purple

I cannot wait to grow alongside the students this year. Despite the worldly circumstances lately, God has shined through with blessings and love. This school year will be amazing!

Expectations:

- Follow all school rules and guidelines
- Follow all safety protocols
- Come to class prepared and ready to learn
- Participation is key
- Be kind
- Be respectful
- Love one another
- Do your best
- Have fun
